

“Got it! You’re at Alcoa, looking at truck oil samples to try better understand the condition of a component , but

... for the second time ...

... what & how?”

* what are you actually doing with the data?

* how did you go about doing whatever “what” is?

simple classification??

logistic regression?

